Mourn and the Banshee-Like SIX NEW PLAYS Wail of the Money Changers Is Mournfully Heard.

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 16.-The banshee like wail of the money changers is the only sound heard these nights in Chieago. The streets are deserted, cafes abandoned and the Bartenders' Union is confronted with bankruptcy. In the vernacular of the street, there is "nothing doing."

All this because thirty-three theatres, fifty-seven halls and seventeen churches have been closed by the Building Department. Street Railways Suffer.

A man interested in the Union Trac tion Company said yesterday that the receipts had fallen off $1,000 a night since the closing order went into effect. Members of the Union Loop Company estimated that the elevated roads had suffered an average daily loss in passengers of between 3,000 and 4,000, while the late suburban trains on the Illinois Central have been leaving the city with less than half the passengers they usually carry when the theatres are

The country trade is affected more "The country trade is affected more than the city business. When people used to come to the city to attend the theatre they would also do some shopping. Now they stay at home."

Other merchants testified to the same experience. The trade of the Wellington Hotel is said to have fallen off one-half by reason of the closing, according to Proprietor A. S. Gage, and the loss to the Auditorium Hotel Company is estimated by the management at several hundred dollars a night.

"The work of the Board of Education has made such wonderful strides in the past ten years that it seems too bad that this unquestionable benefit, which reaches a needy class, should be affected. I am opposed to the idea of ever putting any buildings in the parks, even for educational purposes. It is a bad precedent and would be a great pity. It is all the city can do now to protect its parks.

"The school system has made such rapid advancement in the past few years that it is unfortunate that any phase of its work should be attacked. There has been a gradual raising of the standards, and all teachers realize that the schools must be primarily for the benefit of the children, not for the teachers.
